

GETTING IT ALL TOGETHER

Chris,
You are really a nice guy to know. If I had known where you lived this summer, and I wouldn't been home more, we could've done
some partying
along with Paul.
Have a good year.
Always,
Love,
Jody

As the pieces of life
are falling in place,
we are growing
and changing
and in general
"keeping the pace."

Sometimes it seems
the world is turning faster and faster
day by day,
And sometimes
it's hard to relax and enjoy the fact that we are young.

Today we walk
the paths to tomorrows,
Tomorrow is the dream
we dream of,
the goal
we want for,
and the smiles
we cannot explain
— and today will seem so far away.

Piece by piece
the jumble
of people,
places,
smiles,
and frowns,
start to form a picture.
Like the hours
fill a day...
Days, a week...
and weeks, a year...
or the moments of your life...

Our home ... our family...
Our teachers ... our friends.
The corner stones on which we build ...

Border the picture
with Western,
the building
and spirit,
holding us all together.

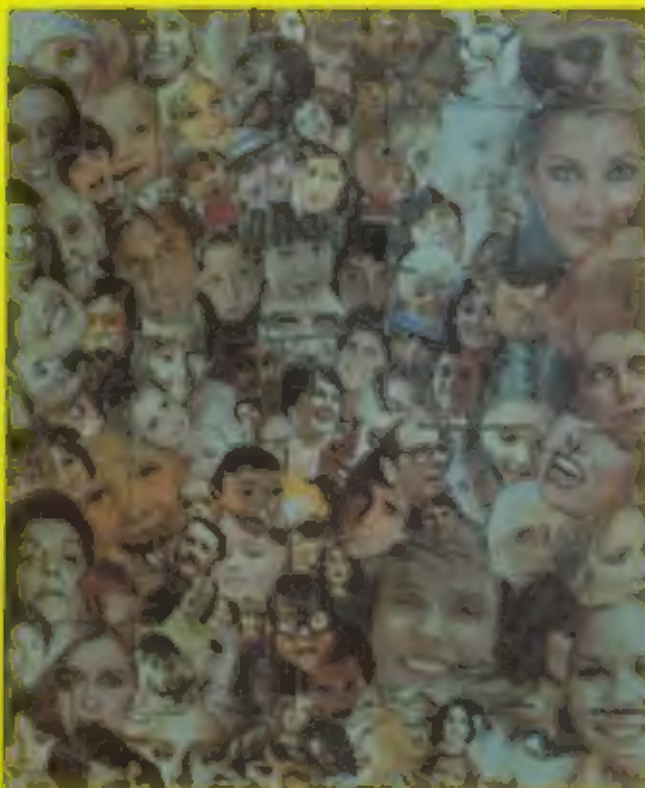

Fill it in
with people,
the students
and staff.

We make each other live...
 We fill each other's lives...
 Just when we think we have it all together - someone bumps the table - jars the pieces out of place...
 And our life is scattered about...

Then we fail to function
 as a member of this jigsaw system
 til eventually
 the pieces,
 are turned face up
 with a kind word or deed,
 a compliment from a stranger,
 or just a "hello".

The pieces start to work their way back into the frame
 and form a form again.

This year itself is a puzzle
— arriving before 7 —
leaving at 12:02 —

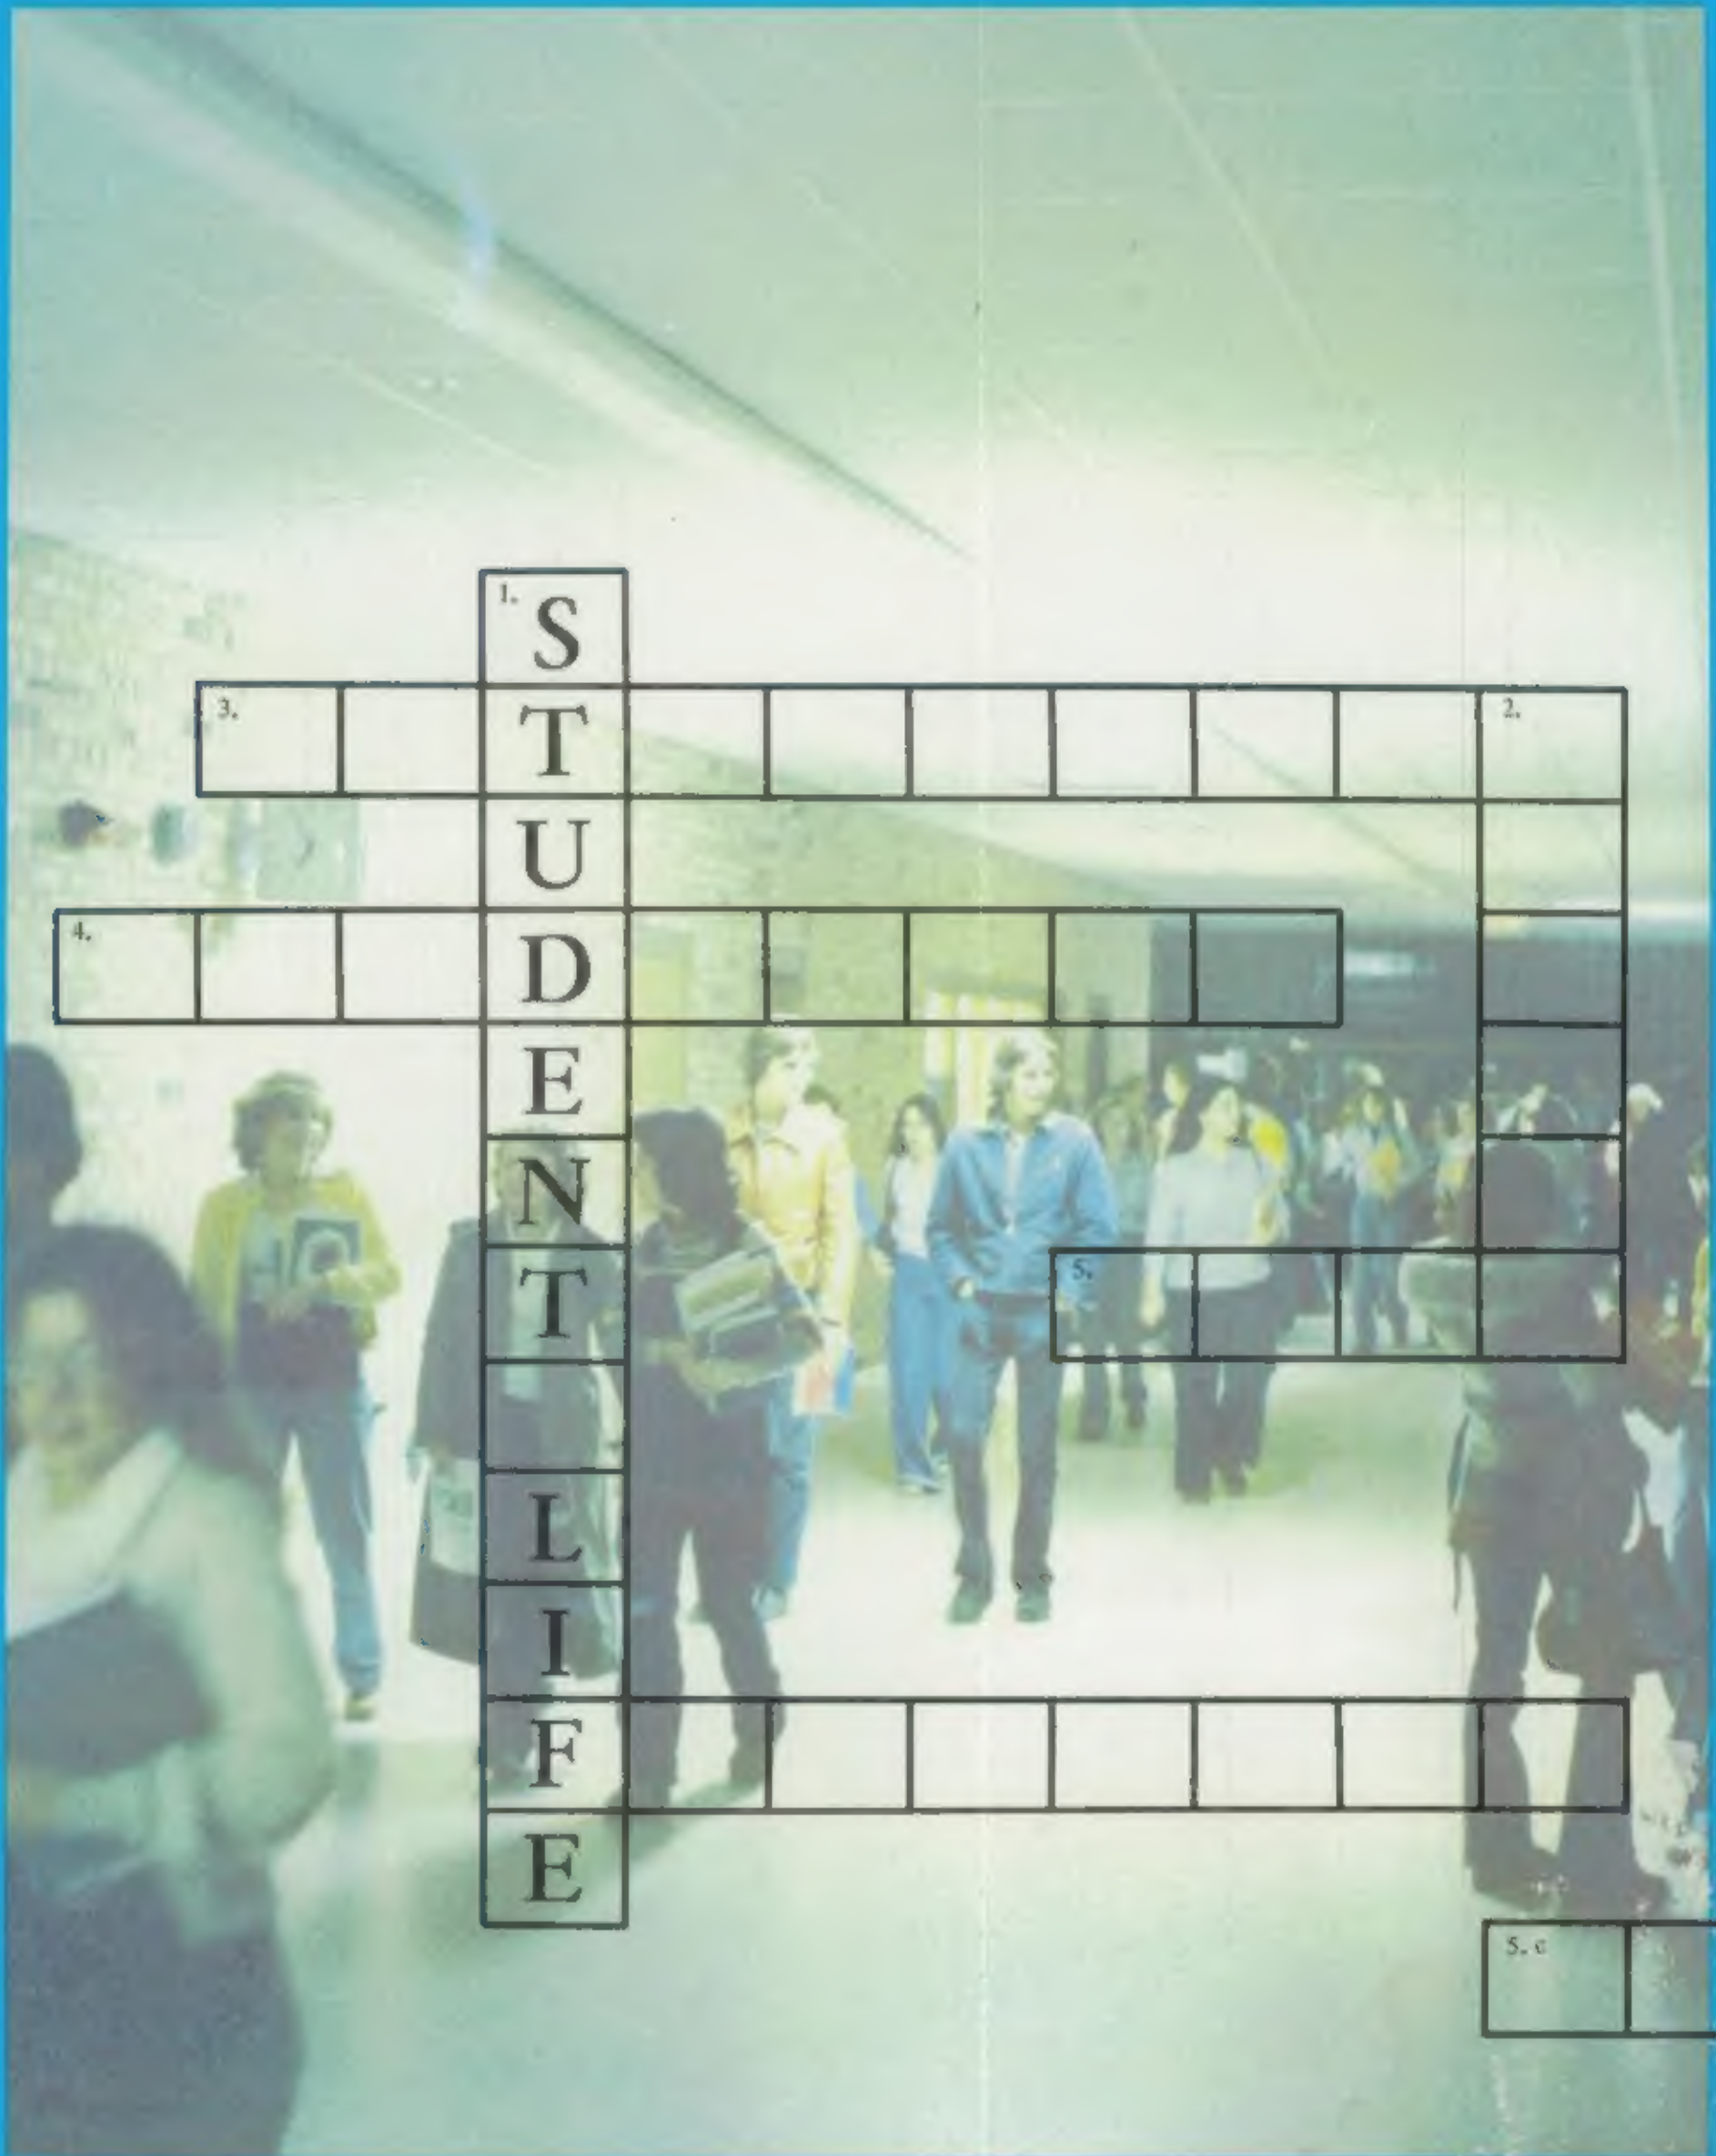

no teams to root for —
— only 9 minutes to socialize —
But still it's a year,
A year we won't forget,
A year in our lives
Like the pages of a book...
We turn the pages so quickly,
Comprehending very little,
Eager to go on...

If only we could read the end first then go through it slowly and enjoy
these chapters.

FINAL CEREMONIES HIGHLIGHT

Mr. Bryant congratulates Mike Balwinski on his success.

Karen Krawczyk reflects on the result of four years of hard work.

The graduating class of 1978 awaits the final step.

YEAR FOR SENIORS

Seniors solemnly participate in Baccalaureate ceremonies.

Todd Upleger and Mark Laracey look forward to Baccalaureate.

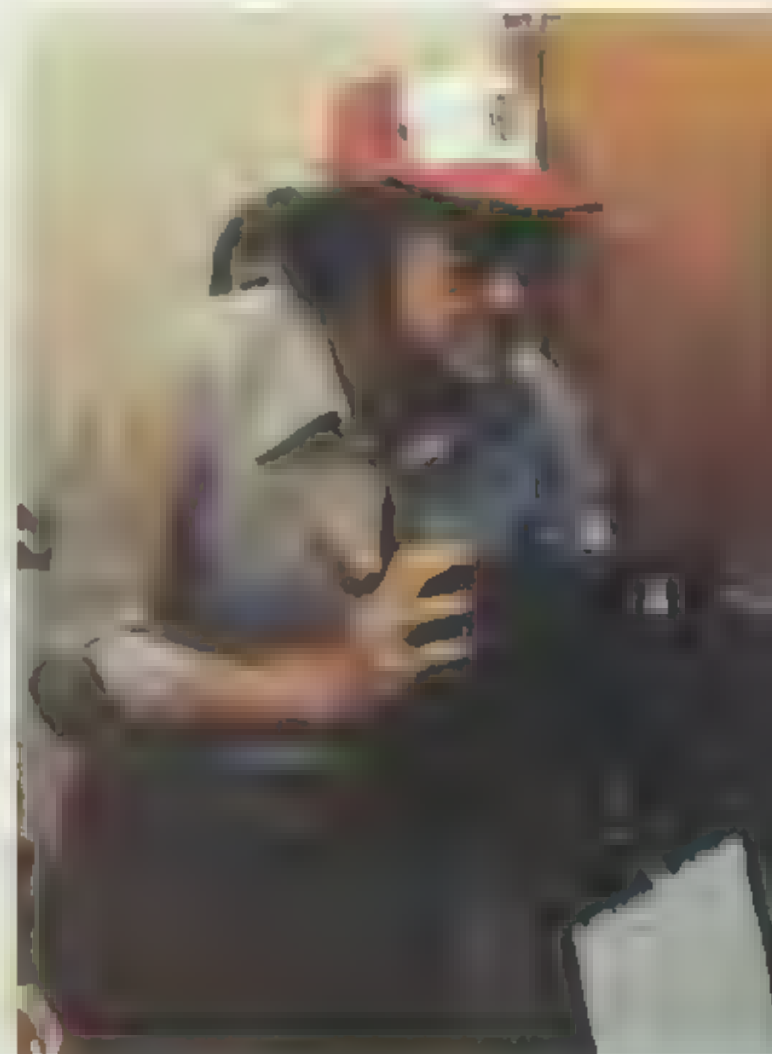

Tracy Cousins, Laura Schultz, and Marie Hoffman engage in the candlelight service.

Ever since these seniors were young children in elementary school and up until they were teens in high school, they've looked forward to their Commencement and Baccalaureate. They've gone through thirteen years of school and then suddenly they're challenged by a completely different type of lifestyle. No more school work, sitting through five classes a day, or any of the everyday hassles each student has faced. But also, they have left behind a special part of their lives which can only be brought back through memories. Commencement and Baccalaureate are memories that are cherished forever by every graduate.

REGISTRATION PREPARES

I thought you were supposed to get numbers in prison! says Jerry Janowicz.

Registration was held on August 21, 22 and 23. The freshmen were the first to register on Monday the 21st in morning and afternoon shifts. Tuesday the sophomores returned to Western in the morning while the juniors came in the afternoon. On the last day the seniors came in the morning, and the new Western students came in the afternoon.

A loyal bunch of students helped to register everyone by typing, taking pictures, cutting, sorting, making I.D. cards and handing out schedules.

The auditorium and commons were full of students comparing classes and teachers and filling each other in on their summers. Although not everyone wanted to give up his summer, all the students enjoyed seeing everyone again.

"WE MAY NEVER PASS

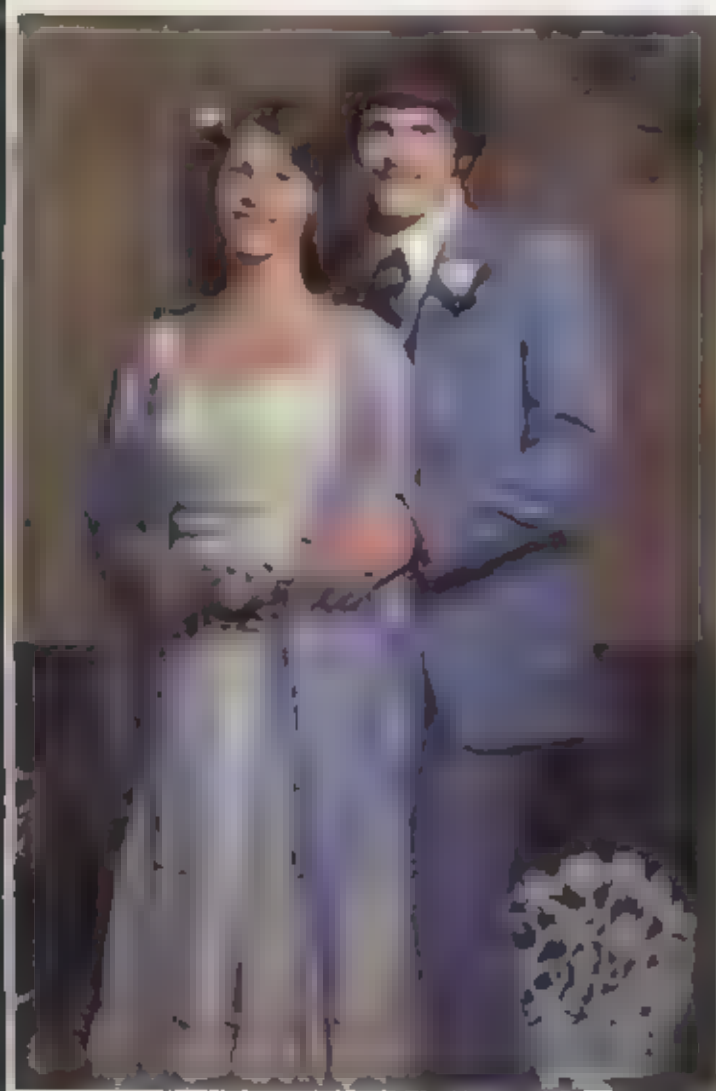

Senior Mike Halwinski and his friends move a fast dance

"We May Never Pass This Way Again" was the theme for the 1978 Junior-Senior Prom. On May 2, the 5th annual Junior-Senior Prom was held at the Delta College Commons. The air was crisp, but the couples still found the beauty of the Japanese scenery of the Japanese garden refreshing. During the course of the evening, the couples had an opportunity to have their picture taken by W.J.S. Hicks while the remaining juniors and seniors enjoyed dancing to the music of Ceyx. Everyone present realized that this was a night they would always remember.

ASSEMBLY KEEPS UP SPIRIT

Student Council is introduced at the assembly.

Members of the court congratulate the queen.

This year's Homecoming celebration started out with a pep assembly. The assembly was a great success in spite of the absence of a varsity football game. The student council was introduced and there were several contests between the classes. Then Mr. Langenburg introduced the court and announced the queen.

The junior-senior game, which was held Saturday, October 28, provided almost as much excitement as the former varsity football rivalries. In the end the seniors pulled off the victory, handing the juniors a 12-6 defeat. The halftime show featured the marching band, Westernettes, majorettes and the crowning of the queen and her court.

The Homecoming celebration ended that night with the dance. Music was supplied by Ceyx and the dance was a big success.

Co Chairmen Linda Pahl and Mary Ellen Kelly speak to students.

Twirp Week is an annual spring event every year. We had Jersey Day, Farmer Day, Dress-Up Day, Hat and T-Shirt Day, and Clash Day. Western was brought to life by all of those who participated. Even though many things were unusually different this year; Western's spirit will go unchanged

The students at Western High, participated in the annual Blood Drive. While some students enjoyed the event, others seemed to be a little "shaky". Not only were students involved but also many faculty members participated. All in all, the 20 drive proved to be another big success.

Kenda Huber doesn't feel it's all that bad.

A few members of the Bell Choir are caught in action.

On April 5, 1978, a recital of solo, voice and piano music was presented by students from Western High School vocal music department.

This program was organized to offer students who are taking private lessons an opportunity for individual musical expression and recognition. These students worked very hard on their personal musical development, and the concert was a big success.

Jennifer DeLorge and Fred Western have an amusing honeymoon.

On March 16, 17, and 18, 1978 the Western Stage Company presented "Exit the Body" by Fred Carmichael. The three act play took place in the auditorium under the direction of Mr. J. Frank Bradley. The tech crew was in charge of lighting, sound, music, and curtain pulling. Fred Western and Dan Hitz took care of set design and construction. The eleven member cast included Jennifer DeLorge as Lillian Seymour, Stacey Baker as Jenny, Dan Hitz as Randolph, Carol Anderson as Helen O'Toole, Ann Bradley as Kate Bixley, Diane Griggs as Crane Hammond, Ron Timmer as Vernon Cookley, Fred Western as Lyle Rogers, Don Rozek as Philip Smith and Dave Sharp as Richard Hammond

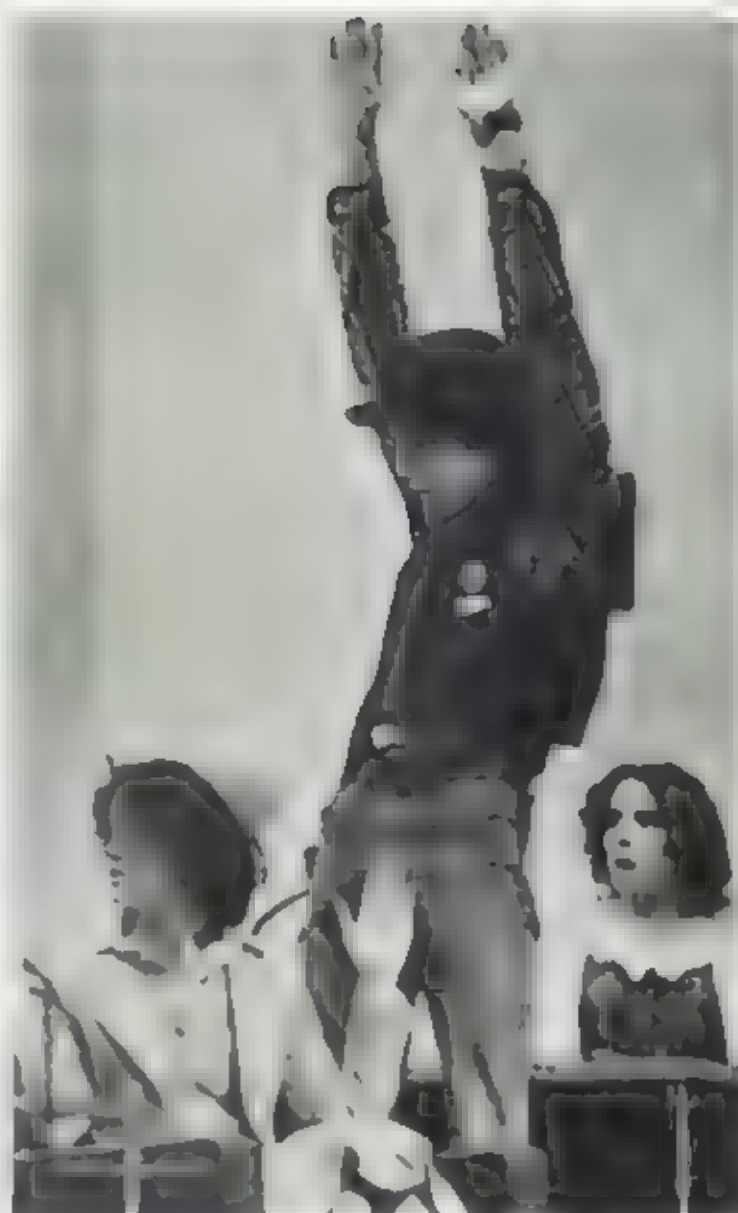

The tech crew consisted of Tony Kierpiec, Jim Bauer, Dan Yurgaites, Brad Wishowski, Milan Bissonette and Kent Winslow

Mike Balwinski does a fine job keeping Mr. Harmon busy.

Just as in the past, the student-faculty game was an entertaining match of the brute strength of the seniors and the brains of the faculty.

The students led by a few players from the varsity basketball team, literally blew the inexperienced faculty off the court. The faculty put up a good fight, but the experience and brawn of the seniors won out.

Slow dancing is so romantic

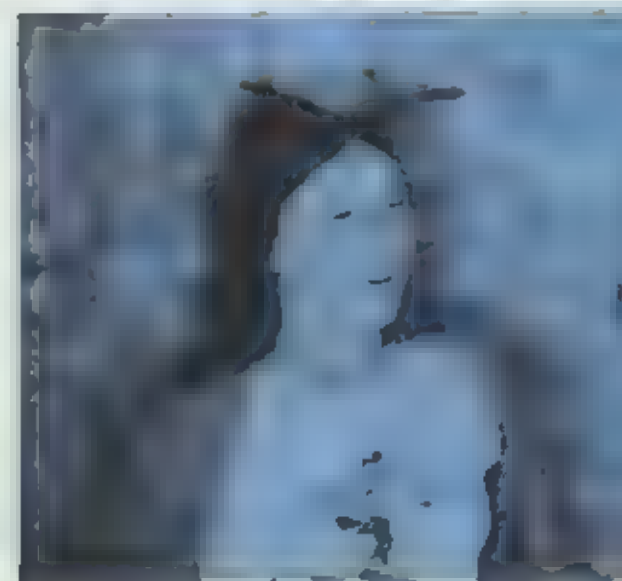

Western's 5th annual Christmas Prom was held on December 16th with the theme "A Christmas Night To Remember." Couples danced to the music of Westwood while the snow fell softly outside. Dress for the prom was semi-formal with a two-way bid, and all the classes were invited. Everyone had an opportunity to purchase a portrait taken by W.J.S. Hicks to provide them with lasting memories of "A Christmas Night To Remember."

SENIORS GET MEASURED

This year's senior class was measured for their caps and gowns early in February. They went down a few at a time and were measured by Mr. Titus. It made graduation seem all the nearer, and it brought them another step toward that day.

The Valentine's dance of 1979 was enjoyed by all. The dance floor was crowded with young and old. The ceiling was decorated with pink and white balloons, streamers, and red hearts which was done by the freshmen. This was the first dance given by the freshmen this year, and everyone had a riot. Nominees were picked from every class, and the winners were announced over the P.A. Friday the sixteenth. For seniors, Tony Lupo and Kelly Coates ... juniors, Chris Mathewson and Audrey Beuchler sophomores, Scott Rechsteiner and Linda Long, ... and, last but not least, ... freshmen, Jeff Cooley and Beth Alarie. Many sports were taken up by students, ranging from softball to boxing.

It was a very sad picture over all for many students, who, because of jobs or lack of transportation, couldn't participate as they could have if school sports had been maintained.

Hopefully, students of the future will not be hindered by the atrocities we have had to suffer

N.H.S. PROVIDES LEADERSHIP

The advisor, Mrs. Post, explains the agenda for the year.

Students of Western High School are proud to be members in Aesthetikos, the Western Chapter of the National Honor Society.

This organization's membership is based on overall leadership, character and service. Mrs. Becky Post serves as advisor for this selective group of students.

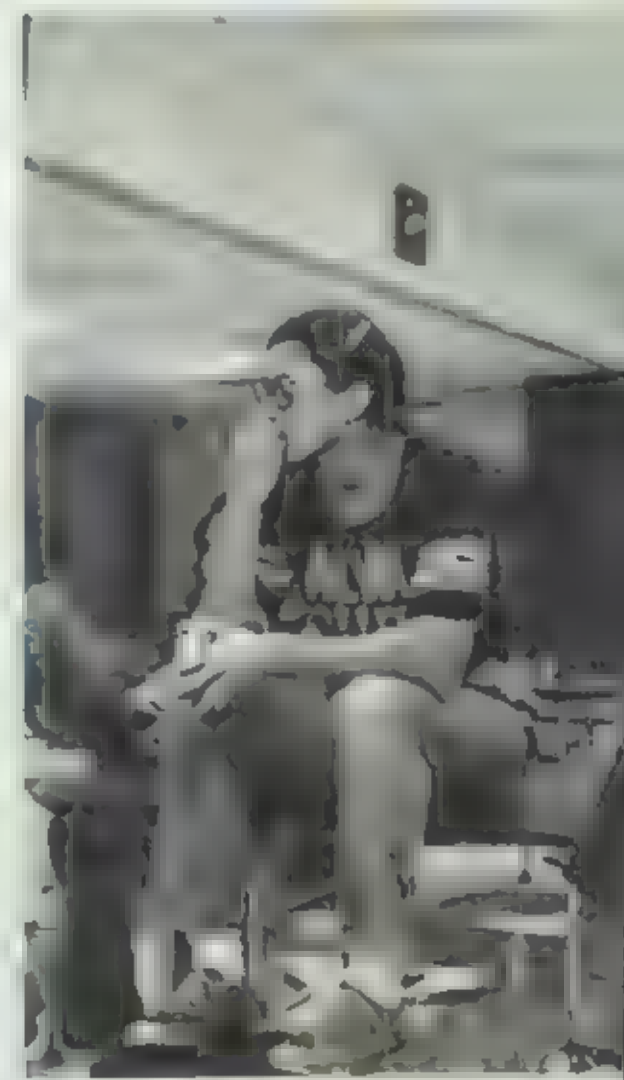

Family and friends had the opportunity to attend an induction ceremony held last spring. This honor will remain with these students for the rest of their lives.

THE STAR SHINES ON

Editor Cindy Miller uses her favorite expression, "Dah!"

Although the school budget was drastically cut this year, the Star shines on. It is produced on the same schedule it was last year, one every three weeks. In order to sustain the fine quality and standards it has had in past years, the Star has, for the first time, sponsored a dance to raise funds.

On the newspaper everyone is directly involved in every issue. The editor and page editors take everyone's work and form it into the finished product. The editor this year is Senior Cindy Miller, who uses the help of page editors. They are News Editor Kelley Coates, Editorial Editors Joan Casterdale and Bill Kohn, Feature Editor Judy Reder, and Sports Editor Sue Rytlewski. The page editors in turn are assisted by the rest of the staff, which is made up of juniors and seniors.

Mrs. Hoyle is the advisor who guides these students in their work to produce the Star.

Mrs. Hoyle also teaches introduction to journalism where prospective news staff members are trained.

Checking to see if her story sounds good is Sue Rytlewski.

We all strived to make the '79 book the best year ever in spite of the lack of extracurricular activities. With 16 returning staff members the class hopes to carry on their tradition of great yearbooks

STUDENT COUNCIL KEEPS ON MOVING

Student Council members listen intently to the agenda of the meeting.

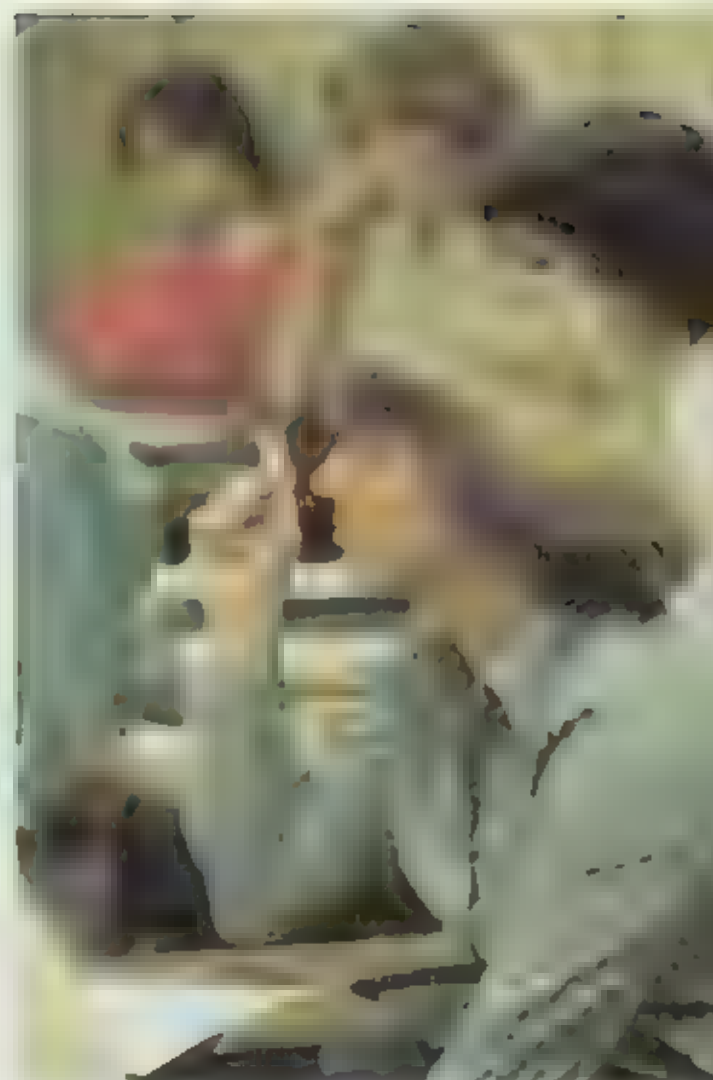

Western Student Council played an important role in school this year. During the course of the year Student Council planned various activities for the students such as dances, assemblies, fund raising drives, and spirit week.

Student Council consists of two Co-Chairmen, secretary, treasurer and eight representatives from each class. Elections were held last spring except for the freshmen. Due to millage defeat, the elected Co-Chairmen chose to attend another school, therefore, new Co-Chairmen had to be elected. Student Council decided to give the seats to the next running mates, Linda Prill and Mary Ellen Kelly. Along with the Co-Chairmen is Secretary Beth Burr and Treasurer Judy Reder.

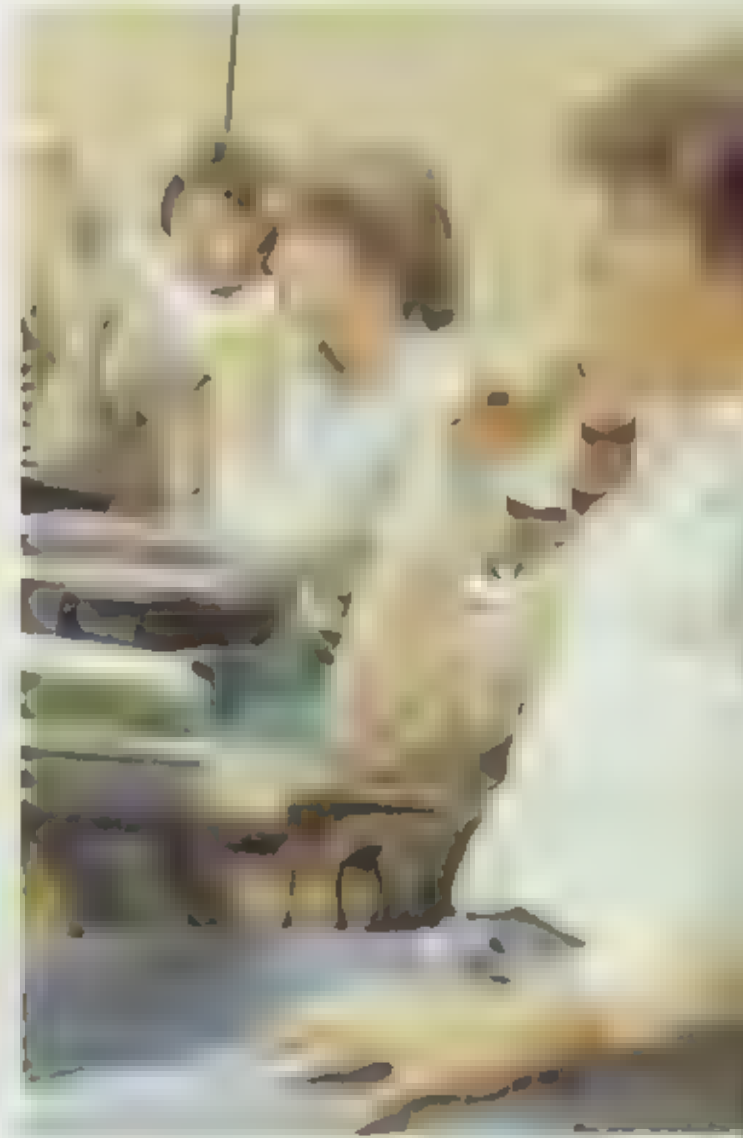

Student Council gratefully acknowledges the help given by Mr. Charles Schwartz, Mr. Dick Syring, Mr. Wayne Przybylski, Mr. Ralph Brusette and Mr. Elmer Link. Also many thanks to all who helped them throughout the school year for without their help and cooperation Student Council could not have been as successful.

Girls League at Western High School is a very important activity. The members helped by ushering at special shows or events put on by Western. Girls League also sold jerseys and candy to raise money. This year Wendy Martin was the president.

Girls League is open to any girl attending Western regardless of her grade. It gives freshmen and sophomore girls a chance to become active in their early high school year. The sponsors of Girls League were Mrs. Janice Wiles, and Ms. Lois Verity.

This year's International Club, under the leadership of its sponsor Miss Barbara Mitchell, accomplished many things.

An International Dinner was held in the fall as a chance for new members to join. To be eligible to join, one semester of any foreign language must have been completed.

Under the direction of the elected officers Brenda Eisenman and Margaret Carbary, co-chairmen, and Barb Schwab, secretary-treasurer, the club raised money through a candy sale and filling the vending machines in the commons. The money earned helps defray the cost of a trip taken at the end of the school year.

Under the supervision of Advisor Mr. Ron Ferguson and Co-Chairmen Brad Wishowski and Dan Yurgates, the tech crew has moved out into the Disco field, providing the latest music and Disco lighting for many high school dances.

ART DEPARTMENT

Western art students are given the opportunity to develop a greater understanding and creative experiences in many of the visual arts. They often help shape a life long appreciation and interest in a wide variety of experiences found in this department. Vocational interests connected directly with the advanced fields of art and also the vocational areas indirectly with art are discussed and explored.

These careers are discussed through an in-depth exploration of processes which involve the techniques, skills, ideas and the art students. There is a large assortment of techniques which allow a student to express his or her talents. A few of these techniques include sculpture, clay construction, paintings, printmaking, jewelry designing, and both perspective and figure drawing.

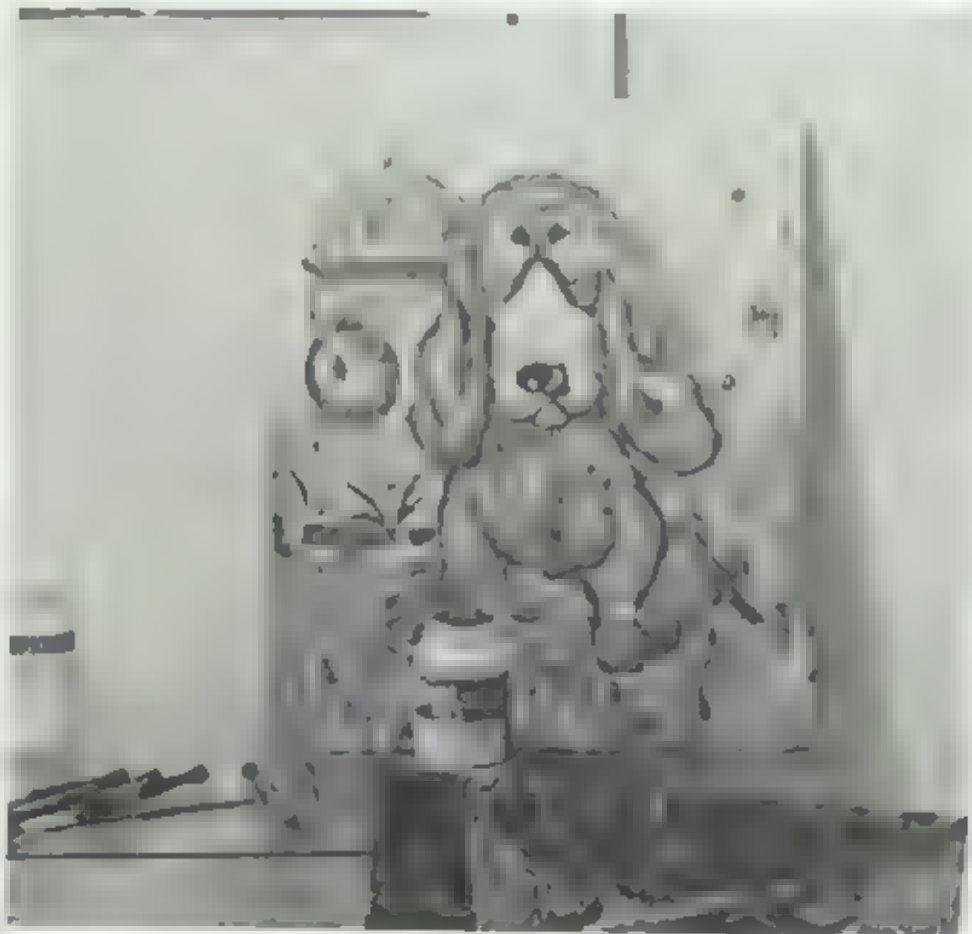

Mr. Schwartz and Mrs. Miller are the Visual Art instructors.

Even though math can be puzzling, there is always some way to figure it out. Today's math classes at Western include Consumers Math, Elementary Algebra, Algebra, Advanced Algebra, Plane Geometry, Plane and Solid Geometry, Trigonometry or Senior Math and Vocational Algebra. Students have many classes and many instructors to choose from

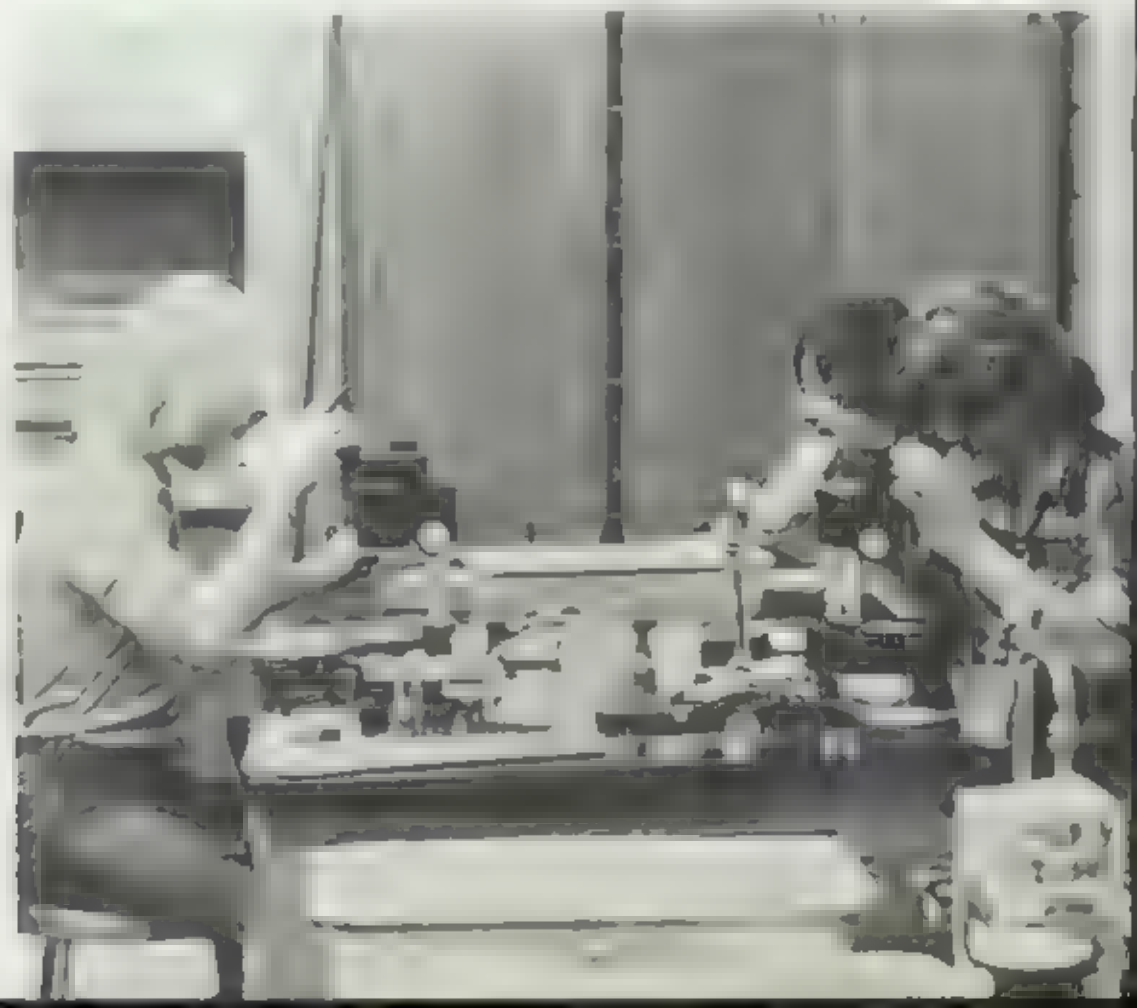

SCIENCE: EXPLORING, EXPERIMENTS, LEARNING

Science involves a great deal of hard work and concentration, but in the long run many students enjoy the experience they get. Lab investigations, experiments and growing plants are only a few of the many different experiences that are offered to the students. Science attracts many students that are preparing themselves for college, but it also attracts students that are just interested in the study of science itself. There's a wide variety of courses available from General Science to Physics. With the many different classes offered, the Science Department has proved to be very popular.

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

C. Ernest and R. Post stop for a moment.

"Not more work," moans Scott Prill.

Foreign languages help our Western students to develop and expand their vocabulary and increase their knowledge and understanding of the English language, and most importantly it introduces them to the history, culture and different lifestyles of foreign lands. Western offers four courses in this field French, German, Latin and Spanish. Any one of these will be valuable to any Western student for international travel, for the job market and as good preparation for the college bound student.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION KEEPS

Students enjoy physical education.

Sharon Smith and Lori McGee prefer to walk.

Students of Western High are required to take a Phys. Ed class their freshman year. Often sophomores, juniors and seniors continue longer than required, enjoying the many benefits from Phys. Ed., among these, better health and physical fitness. Western offers a wide variety of gym classes to suit everyone's taste, whether it be soccer, volleyball or even dance. No matter which one the students choose, they all help to keep a person physically fit and usually are quite enjoyable.

Chris Mathewson and Bill Anderson goof around, while Brian Chartier tries to study.

Marcine Grzegorzczak can't help but laugh at Mr. Ferguson.

MORE THAN SMALL TALK

Bill Anderson and Cindy Bryant prove that Speech isn't all talk Junior Joan Brewster looks for just the right word.

First hour Speech is too much for Roxi Nowak.

Speech is a required class at Western High. But it is one of the most useful courses offered. No matter what field a student decides to go into, it will help him to better understand the people he will encounter in the future.

The classes offered to fill the speech requirement are Let's Get Acquainted, offered to freshmen to help them adjust to Western High School's way of life. Drama, which instructs students in the basics of acting. Radio and T.V. is for the student that is thinking of going into the field of broadcasting. And finally, Interpersonal Communication, which most juniors take to fulfill their speech requirement.

Even though speech is one of the smaller departments in the school, it is staffed by two competent instructors. Mr. Ron Ferguson, Speech Instructor, and Mr. Frank Bradley, Drama and Radio T.V. instructor.

Larry Kennedy enjoys speech

Larry Schwidder gets a kick out of speech

Juniors talk over their speech topics

Mr. Ferguson gets his point across

It's group of Americans to use their English in an informal way during speech class.

Scott Jansen seems very interested.

"ENGLISH PROVIDES BASICS"

English is necessary for communication throughout most of our daily lives. A good English background is necessary for survival, advancement, and job placement, which is why English is required for seven semesters during high school. Students have their choice of choosing from over forty different classes in the categories of Language Studies, Composition, and Literature. English classes also provide us with the annual yearbook "Concept," and the school newspaper, "Western Star," which is published every three weeks.

Discussing research papers are Cindy Miller and Judy Neumeyer

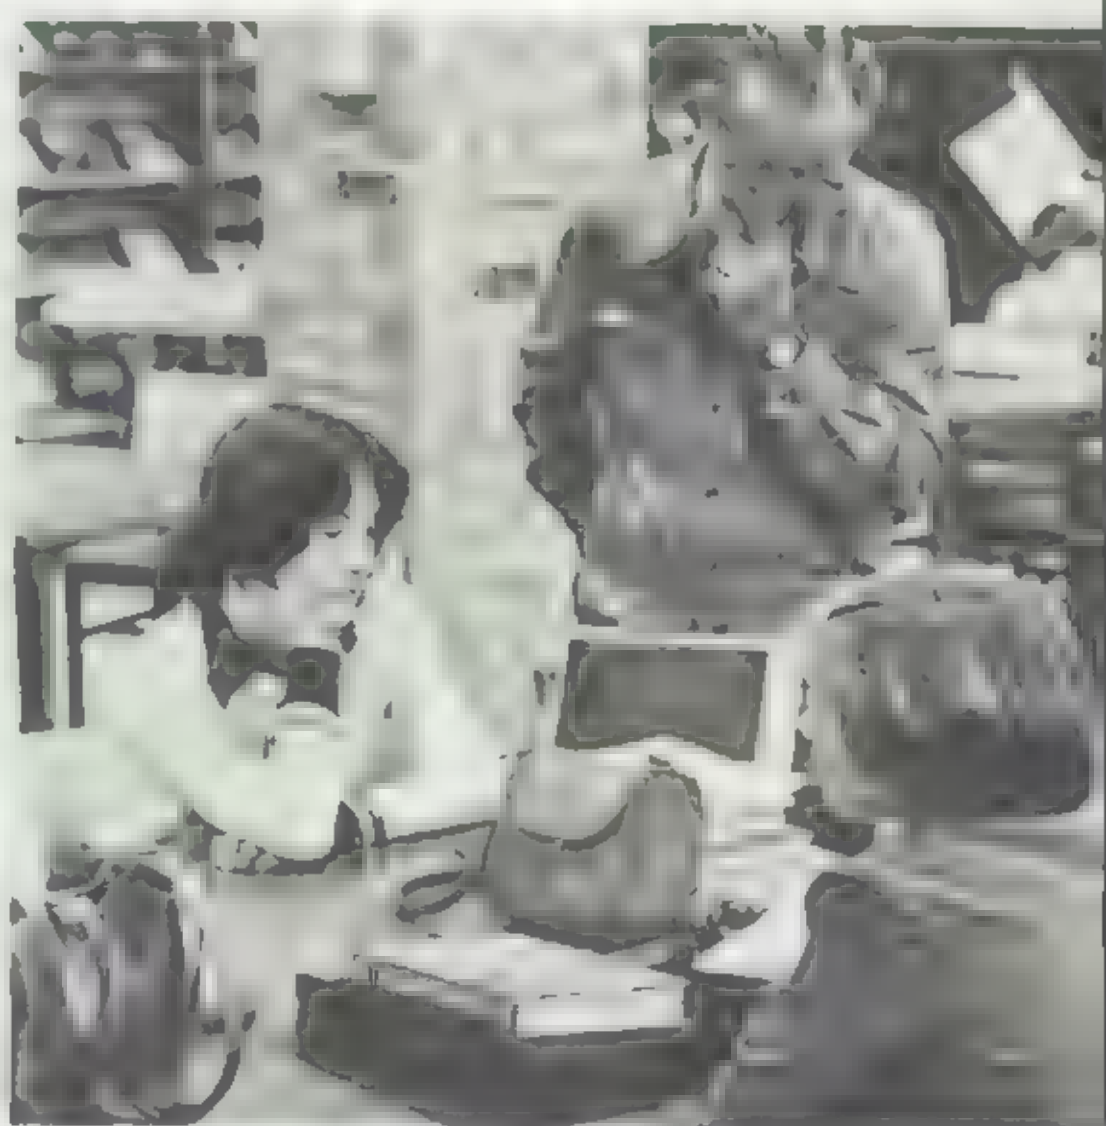

Rich Koehler expresses his talent in writing

Cheryl Straley takes a break looking at a cheerleader

Jodi Watson gets comfortable while looking up information.

Instructing Michelle Abeare with a problem is Mr. Hauckaylo.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

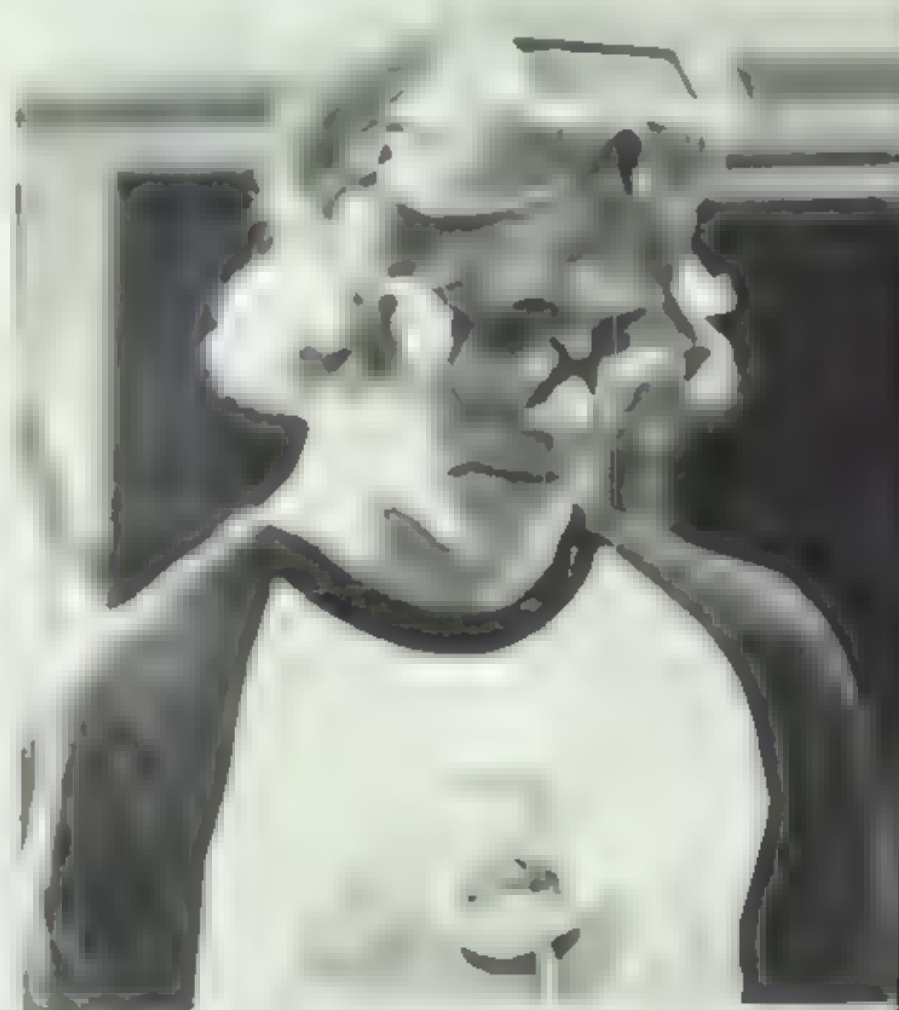

The yearbook photographer catches these welding students taking time to discuss the day's work or what happened the night before.

"Da, to draw or not to draw" says Don Brown.

Industrial Arts helps a student to find his skills for the future. At Western a student can take a wide variety of industrial arts classes, ranging from mechanical drawing to auto mechanics. Many students go on to use these skills in the profession they choose later in life.

What's on your mind Kirk Tagget?

PROVIDES FUTURE SKILL

Kevin Lupo shows measuring is important

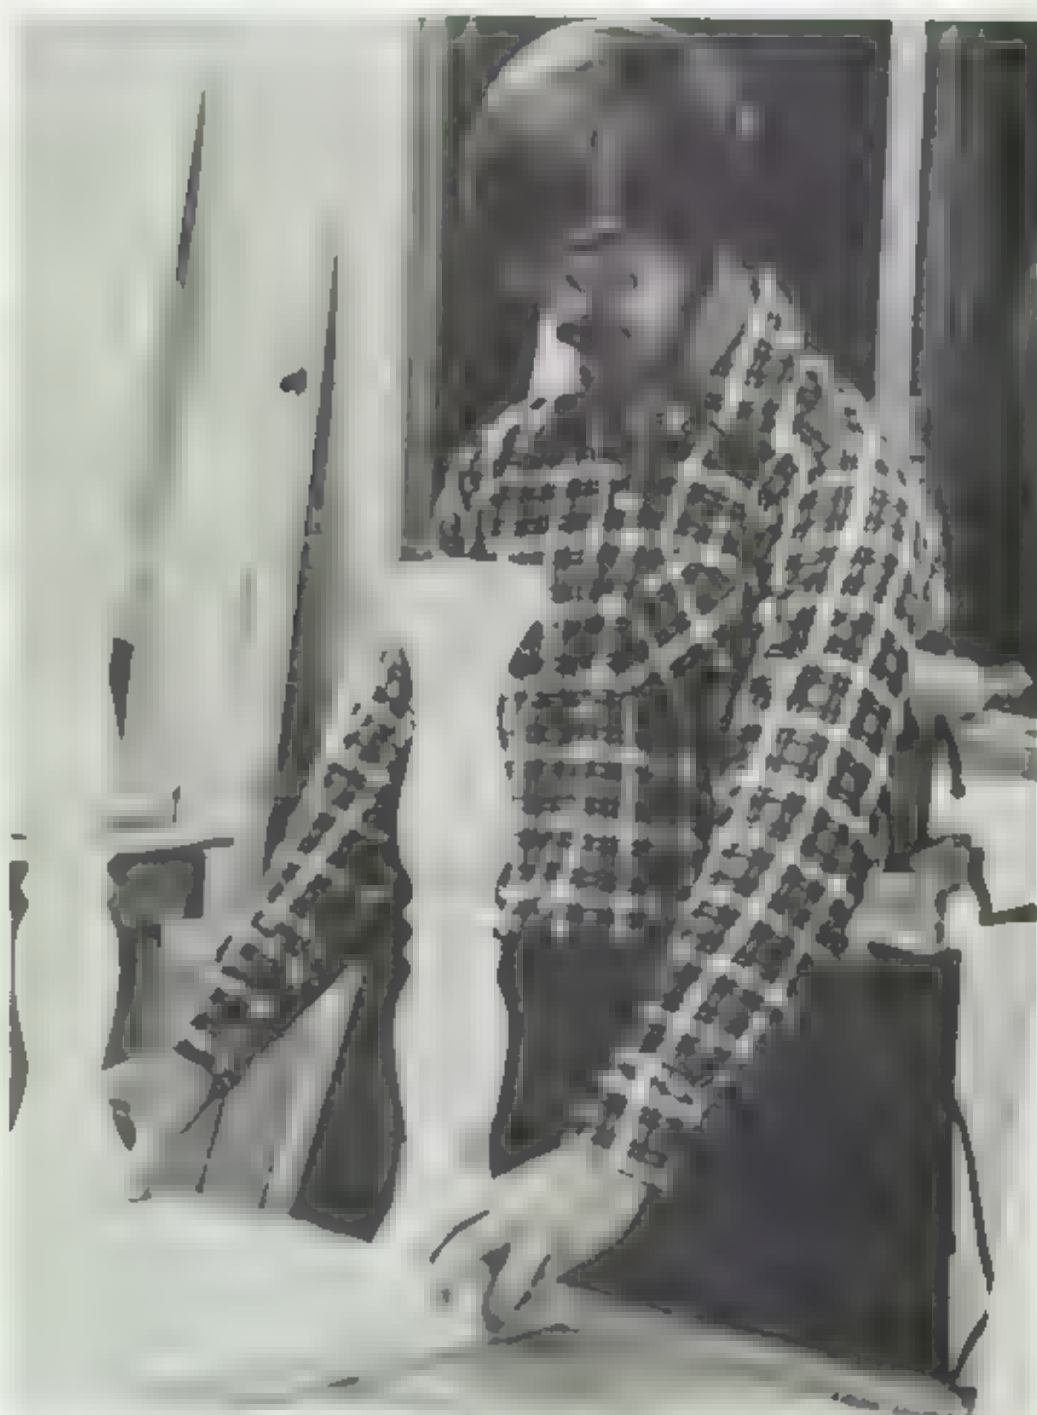

George Twigg is trying to "fix up" those mistakes

Students take a break to discuss their plans.

Mark Lynch looks for a place to hide that piece.

"Looks all right to me!" says Larry Zalucha

Two students working together isn't always such a good idea.

SOCIAL STUDIES INFORMS

History, usually taken in the 11th grade, and Government, taken in the 12th, are the two required social studies classes but students may take others. Some of the more popular elective classes are Psychology, Sociology, and Economics. Michigan History and World History are the other social studies classes students may choose to take during their high school career.

Social Studies classes can be interesting and informative. If you made up your mind to work hard at them, you will soon realize they are helpful in getting it all together.

Psychology captures these students' minds.

Mr. B. can't believe that late excuse.

Michele Kleinmith isn't camera shy, but Randy Knoerr seems to be.

Seniors discuss Government as Mr. Fitz supervises

Mike Janowicz and Robby Burt, are you day-dreaming in Government?

The camera catches Wally Vogtmann by surprise

Mr. Gibson: "Sir, I was only kidding!"

Students' reactions to Psychology are varied.

History requires concentration

Hey guys, it's only a camera!

Tracey and Janice laugh in Government.

Sandy Brinkman, is Government that interesting?

Students work diligently on a history assignment.

Leasa Howard say "cheese!"

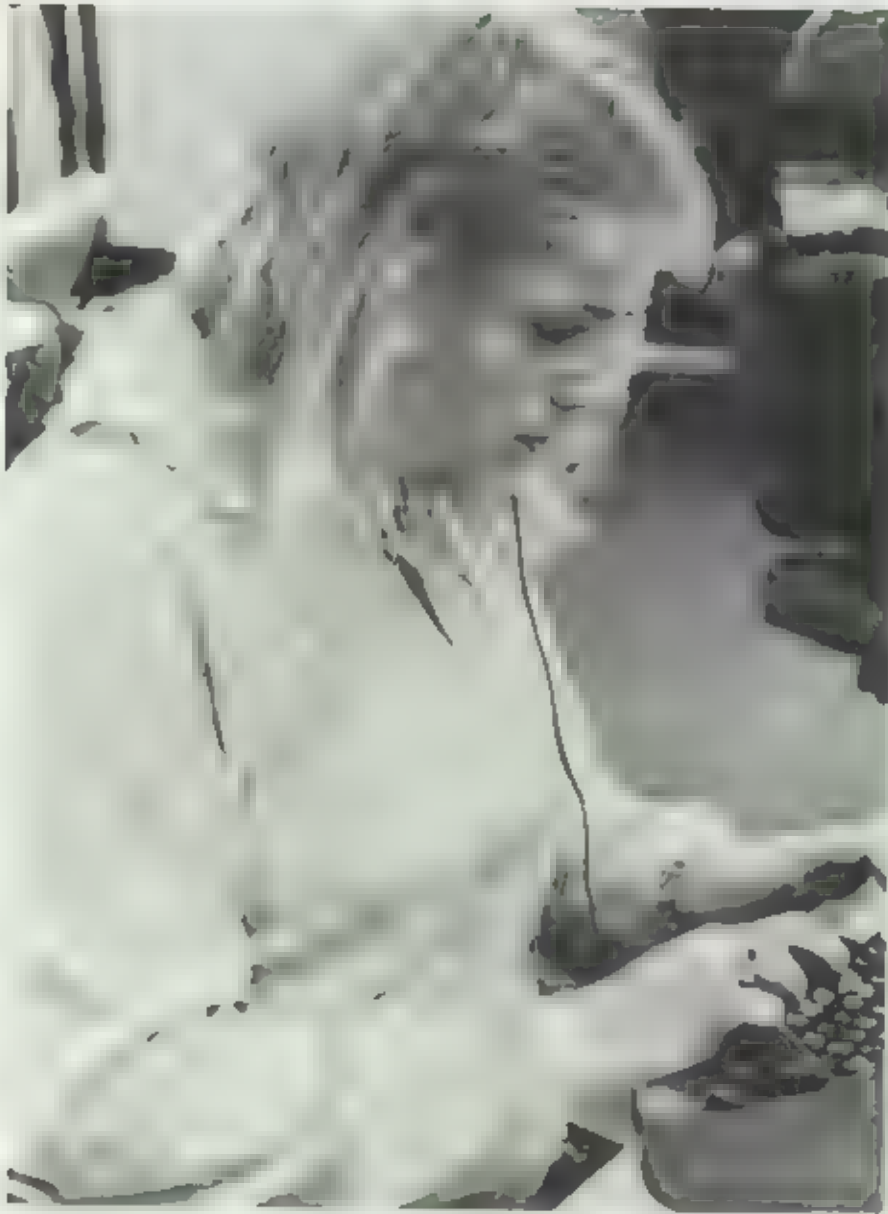

Seniors analyze a movie just seen in history class.

Sue Roth and Deanne Reiss, look behind you!

STUDENTS ENJOY

Sue Reder sharpens her typing skills.

"Now what do I do with it," wonders Paul Irtli

Bay Arenac Skill Center is offered to 11th and 12th graders from a number of different schools in our community, including Western. A wide variety of classes is offered to teach students a skill. The classes range from Radio and TV to Food Management. The classes are enjoyed by many of the students and help train them for future careers.

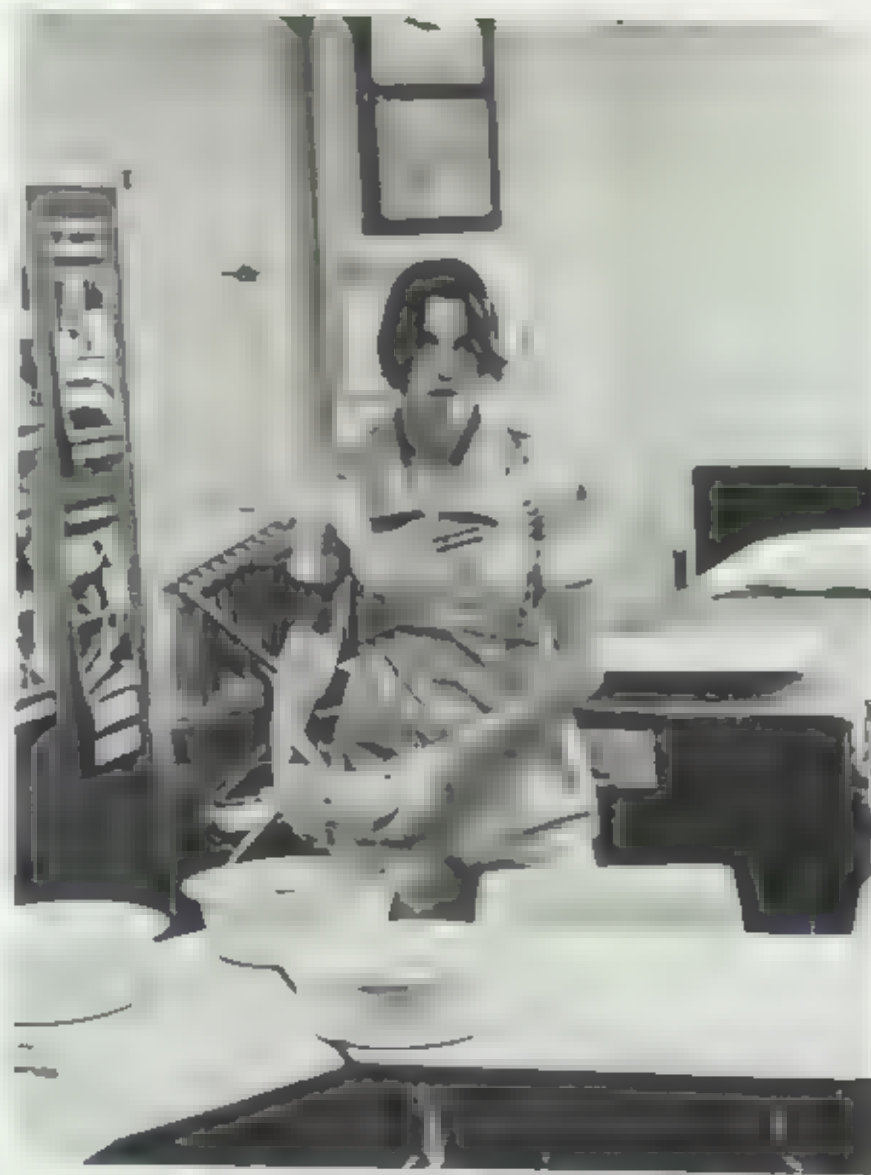

"It might work if I plug it in," thinks Cary Gordon.

SKILL CENTER

"Do you have the answers?" asks Ben White.

Well, I can give you the answers, says Stacy White.

"The teachers are half of the fun," says Ann Klepser.

"Aha!" I have a better idea, says Amy Szczepanski.

"I think I broke it," says Eric. When

Not a happy student, David.

SENIORS OF "79" ARE SUPER FINE

Super Fine "79" — We the seniors came to Western four years ago, and now that is all behind us. Our class has been through a lot together sharing many memories like Celebration, sports, dances, and parties together.

As freshmen we came, strangers from many area schools, soon to make new friends. We saw and some participated in all extracurricular activities. The following years we have seen many activities we enjoyed gradually being eliminated. Our final year or "best" year came and is gone with nothing but those memories.

We have learned a lot about life during our school years. Now it is our turn to accept the challenges and responsibilities life has bestowed upon us. We shall go out in the world with pride. Many of us plan to go on to college; others will find jobs or get married.

We do have many memories that will never die whether good or bad. We owe many thanks to our friends, teachers, administrators, and the unknowns who have helped us to complete our education, and we will never forget them. This is only our beginning.

JUNIORS MOVIN' UP

The class of "80" started the year off with a bang with the largest candy sale ever held at Western. The juniors made almost five thousand dollars on the sale. Mike Savio took top honors and Sue McNally second in total sales. The money raised will be used for the junior-senior prom and for the senior class trip.

Class officer elections were held in the spring for the 78-79 year. Vicki Knoerr was elected president, Jeane Sinke was elected vice-president, the secretary is Audrey Buechler and treasurer is Leslie Greenwood. The senators are Kendy Bridgewater, Sue Brinkman, Pat Schmidt and Gigi Wessely.

Many of the juniors also had to put up with PSAT and ACT tests which are required for college. With only one year left the juniors showed they won't have any trouble being seniors.

Class senators are Rhonda Rees, Yvonne Rozek, Jill Campbell, and Pauline Wasek

This year the class of '81 went from frightened freshmen to brave and daring sophomores. They started their progress last spring with student council elections. Elected were Dave Burk, President, Jay Handy, Vice President, Diane Kren, Secretary, and Robin Martin, Treasurer. Senators chosen were Jill Campbell, Rhonda Rees, Yvonne Rozek, and Pauline Wasek.

Class rings were ordered this fall and mums were sold for homecoming which are both annual events for sophomores.

Class officers are Jay Handy, Dave Burk, Robin Martin, and Diane Kren

"82" IS ON THE MOVE

Bottom L to R: Terry McNally, Lynda Vennix, Lisa Stoars, Carl Wieck, Colleen Herner. Top L to R: Tim Fournier, Tom Fryzel, Ann Trompeter.

When the freshmen came to Western High School, they had to adjust to the scenery and to the changes of scheduling.

As the year progressed they became aware of where they were going and what they were going to do.

"Can't a man drink in peace," says President Tom Fryzel.

A grid of 21 black and white portrait photographs of students, arranged in three rows of seven and one row of three. The students are of various ethnicities and are dressed in formal attire. The portraits are arranged in a grid that is three rows high and seven columns wide, with the last row containing only three portraits. The students are looking directly at the camera with neutral expressions. The background of each portrait is a plain, light color. The overall image has a slightly grainy, vintage quality.

 NEWCOMERS AND SENIORS

IN MEMORY

Kathy Behmlander was in her fourth year at Western. She was actively involved in the art program and had plans to major in art. In her senior year Kathy was a member of the yearbook staff. She died in a car accident in the fall of 1978.

*As long as time has been
people have been rushing through life
trying to do it all today
as though they really knew
tomorrow
would surely come
It all seems so practical
this preoccupation with today
till suddenly
tomorrow
is taken away*

Diane DeShano was in her senior year at Western. She was involved in gymnastics and enjoyed skiing. Having lived on a farm, she also liked horseback riding. Diane was killed in a car accident in the winter of 1977.

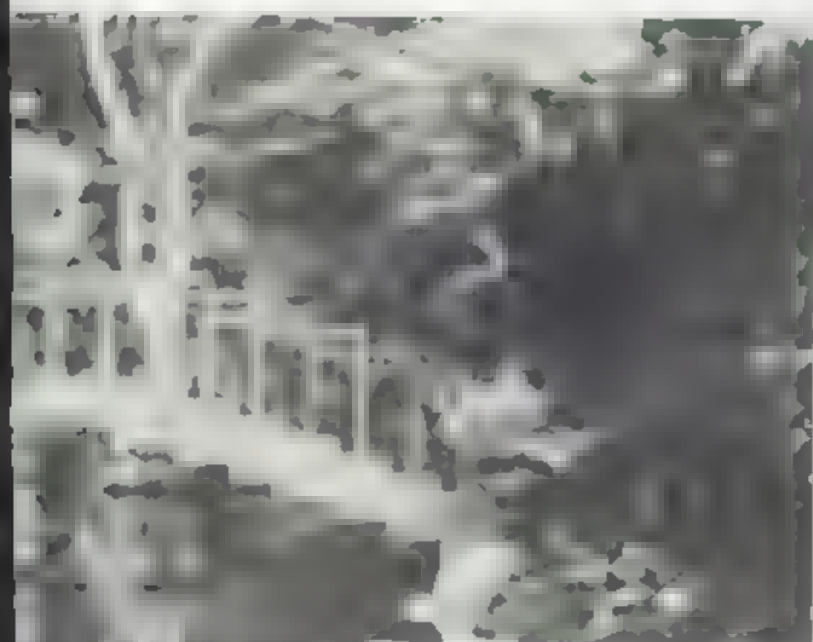

Robert Klemm was in the second semester of his freshman year at Western. He was very much interested in fishing and camping. He passed away during the spring of 1976 of leukemia.

Cindy Koch was very active in sports and participated on volleyball, basketball and softball teams. Her favorite hobbies were reading and macrame. As a freshman the first year Western opened, Cindy died of pneumonia.

OF

Mr. Hoag was a social studies teacher at Western from 1973 until 1978. He taught for 20 years at Handy High School before Western opened. He was a graduate of Roosevelt University in Illinois and received his Masters from the University of Michigan. He enjoyed target shooting and traveling. He passed away of cancer in 1978.

Mrs. Holyszko served as the school nurse here at Western from 1974 to 1977. She worked for 15 years at General Hospital in the Pediatric Ward before coming to Western. Rose was very active in church and volunteer work and enjoyed traveling. She passed away of cancer in 1977.

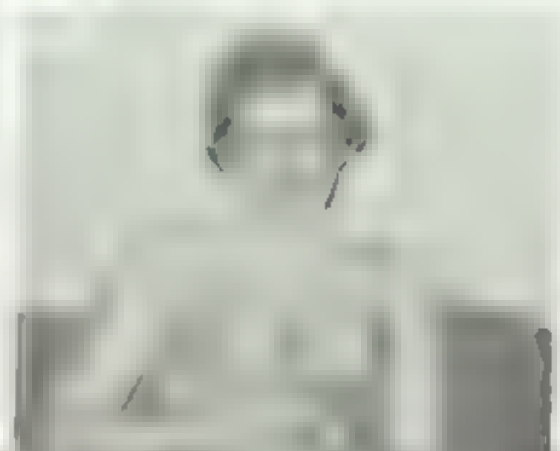

Mrs. Reif was Western's first nurse. In 1941 she graduated from Hurley School of Nursing, receiving her Bachelor of Science from Central Michigan University in 1960. She was Assistant Supervisor of Nursing for the Bay City Health Department. In 1966 she began working for the Bay City Public School System and came to Western when it opened in 1973. She passed away of cancer.

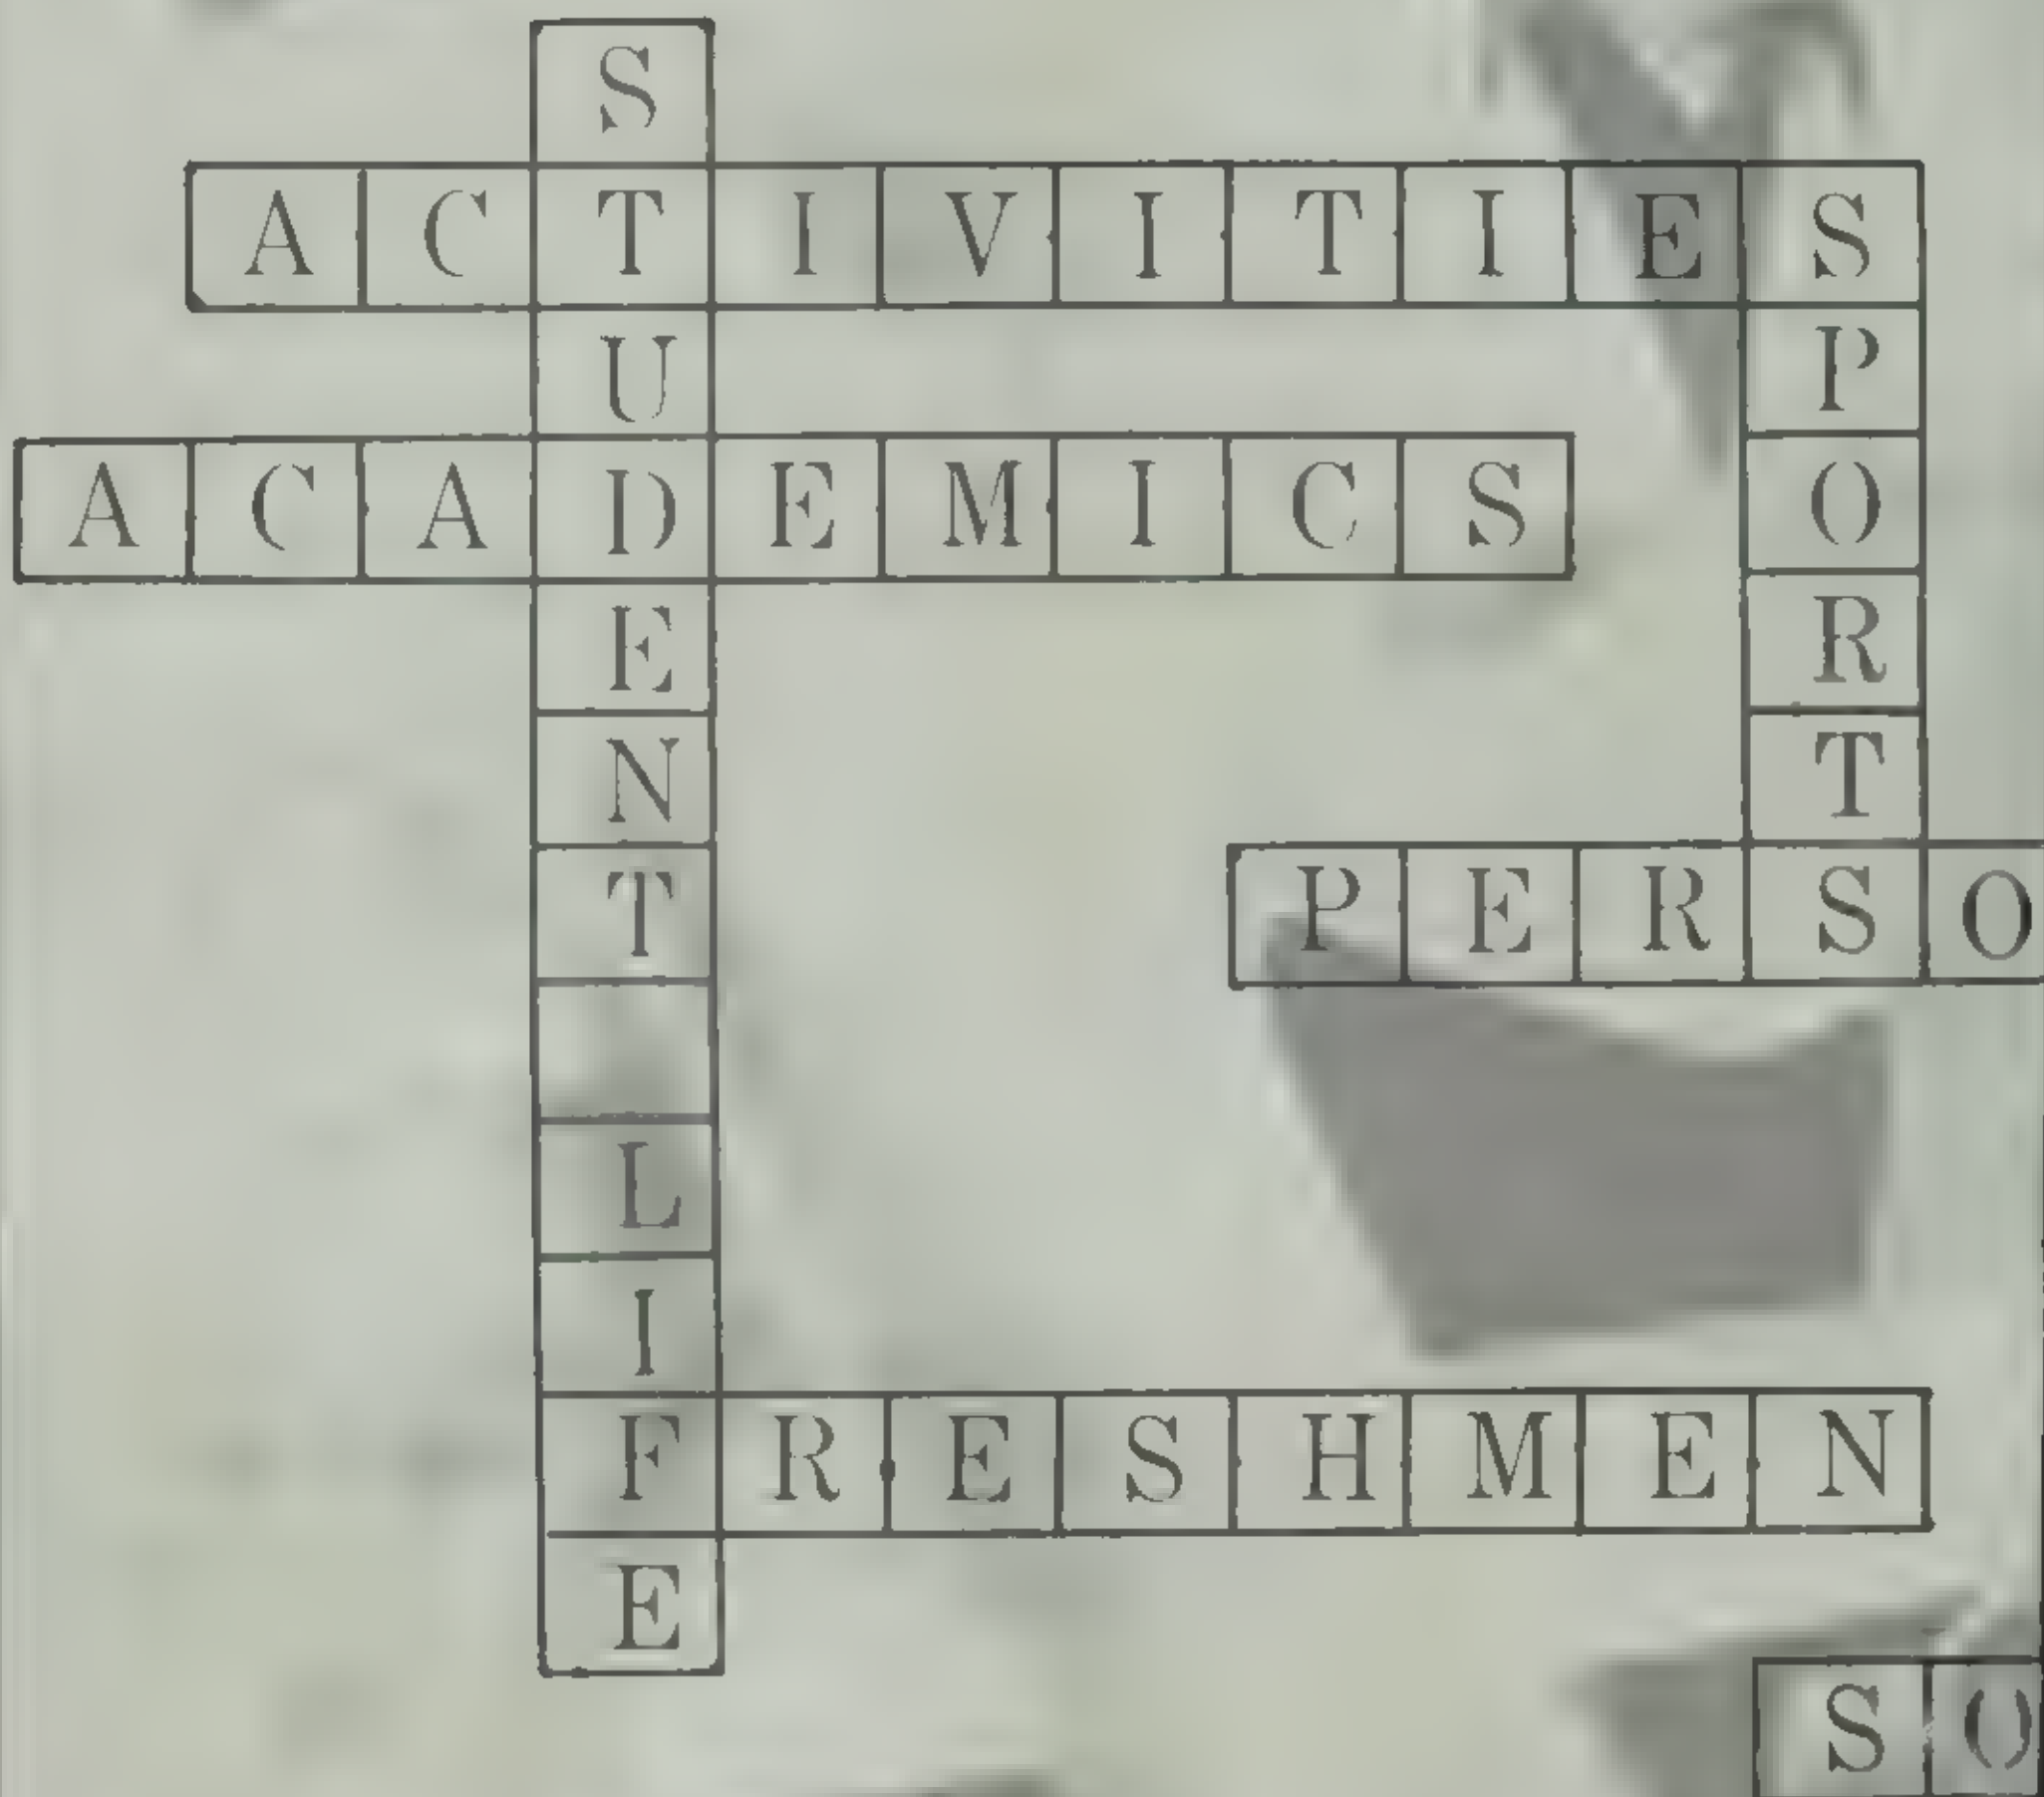

Mr. Toth taught science in Bay City schools for 18 years and spent his last five at Western. In 1942 he graduated from East Carolina University in North Carolina and received his Masters from Michigan State. He was the head volleyball coach at Western and enjoyed fishing, hunting, bowling, hiking and traveling. He passed away of cancer.

Mrs. Walther was a cook during Western's first year. She also worked as a Brownie Scout Leader and was an organist at her church. She was killed in a car accident in the spring of 1974.

SPECIAL SERVICES GUIDE

Director of the career resource center is Mr. Davidson

Mr. Link is a staff specialist

Mrs. Mary Lou Jammer attends her attendance records.

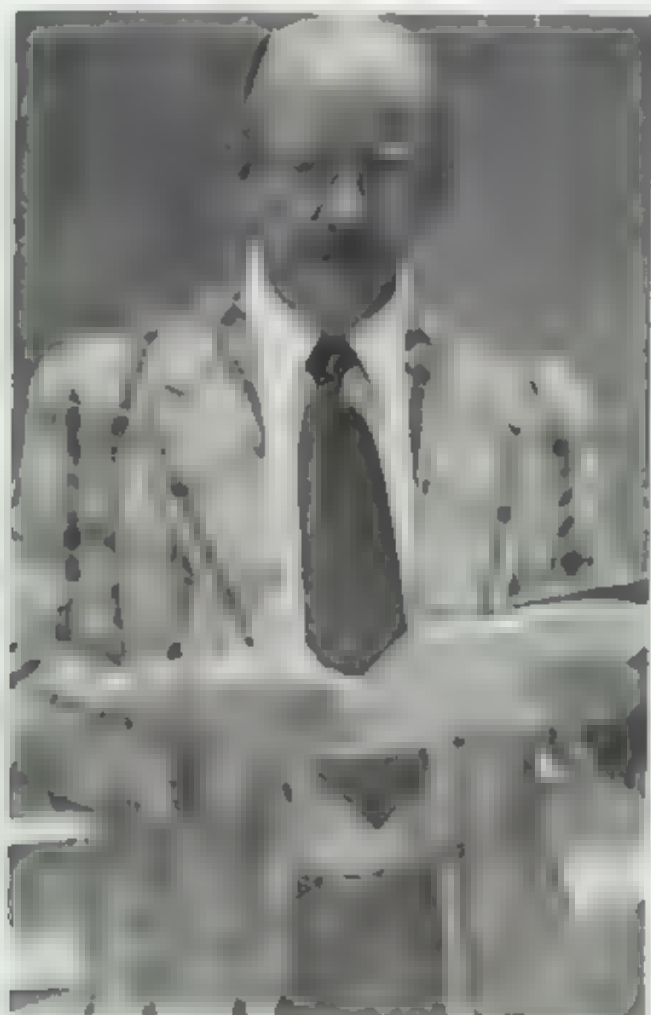

Looking for something Mr. Przybyski?
Another specialist is Mr. Schwartz

Special services are an important part here at Western High School. Some teachers and school advisors spend their time with students to plan for their career in college and for their futures

Others enforce the rules, violations, attendance, and discipline problems with the students

STUDENTS FOR THE FUTURE

Mr. Jacobs is the co-op coordinator at Western.

The school social worker is Mrs. Wayne.

Mr. Saxton is another staff specialist.

The school career counselor is Mrs. Davis.

Librarian Mrs. Hoag takes time out from her work for a quick picture.

Mr. Syring looks up from his records.

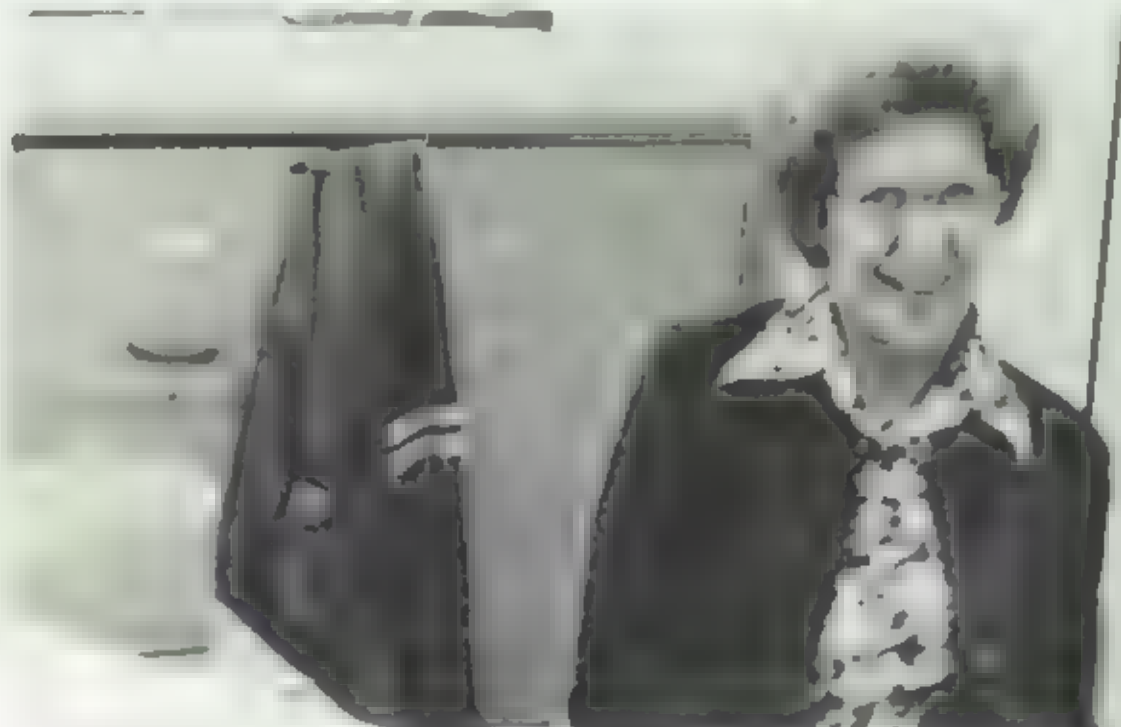

BEHIND EVERY MAN OF SUCCESS THERE'S A WOMAN

The secretaries are a very important part of Western High School. In short, they keep Western going by taking care of all the calls and letters coming in and going out of the office.

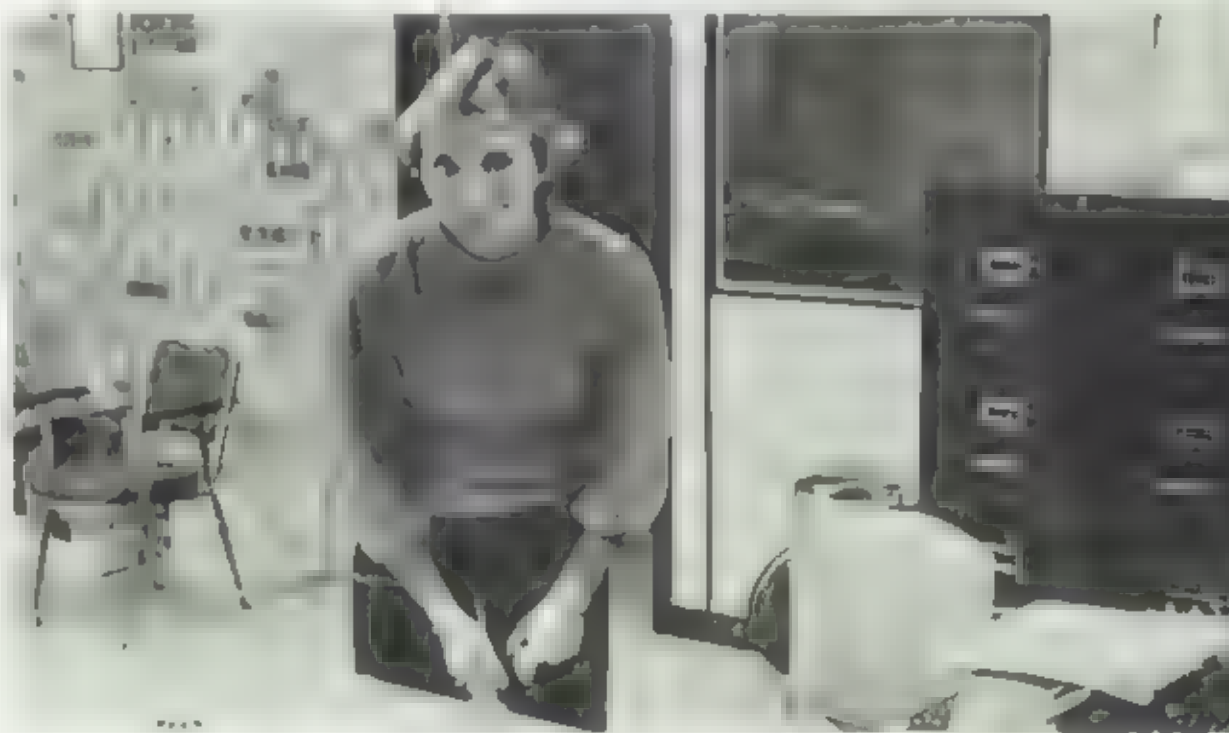

The office secretaries are Deb Hanczewski for Mr. Bryant; Maxine Barker for Mr. Bloenk and Mr. Langenburg; Carol Sabounn, Switchboard, Dorothy Lehman, high school records; Eileen Doan, Guidance Center; Ruth Wilhite, General Secretary; Sue Thomas, Library and Kay Linda attendance clerk.

Mrs. Wilhite takes a break from her work to smile for the camera.

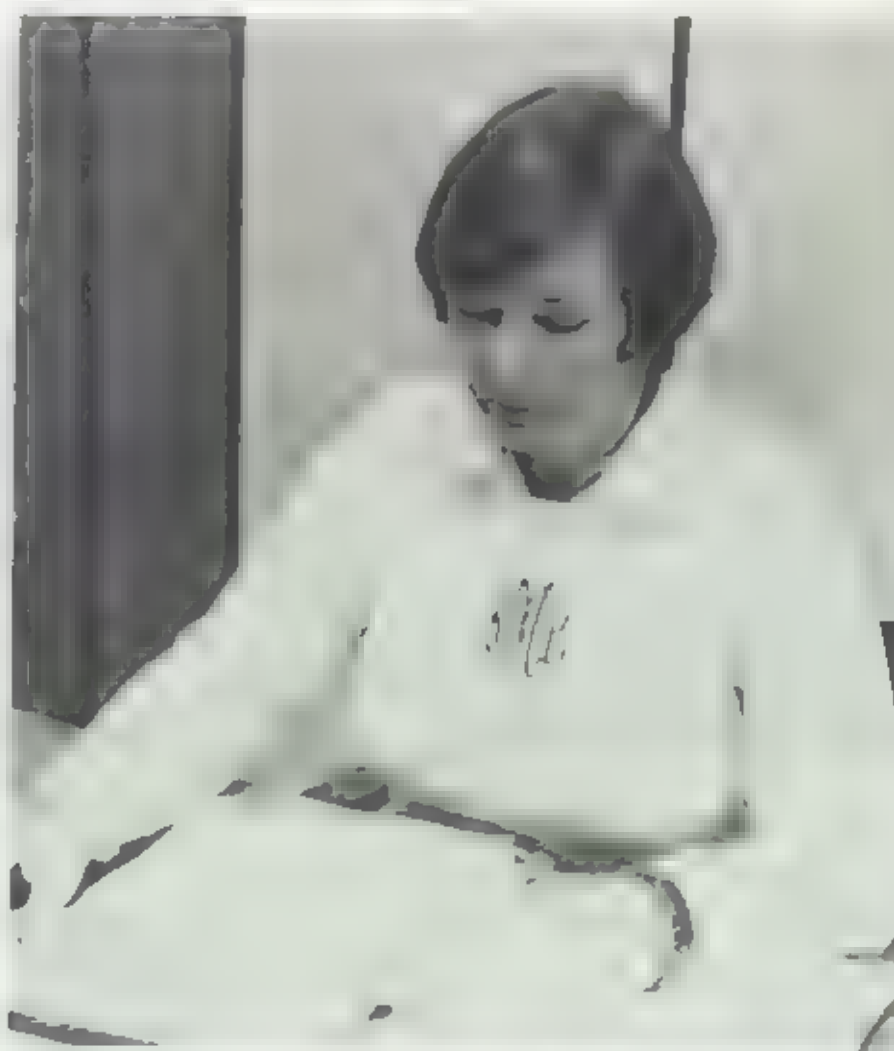

Secretary for Mr. Bloenk and Mr. Langenburg is Mrs. Barker.

"Not you again!" says Deb Hanczewski.

Keeping things quietly in order in the library is Mrs. Thomas.

The school attendance clerk is Mrs. Linda

Mrs. Doan shyly poses for the camera in the Guidance Office

Mrs. Sabourin smiles while answering the switchboard.

Dorothy Lehman enjoys taking care of the school records.

CUSTODIANS AND

Bob Weber takes a coffee break.

Ken Christopherson keeps the bathrooms spotless.

HALL MONITORS HELP OUT

The hall monitors are Penny Wakfield and Larry Lloyd.

Bob Weber and John Owens talk over the day's work

The custodians and hall monitors work behind the scenes to help make Western run smoothly. The hall monitors patrol the halls and the parking lots. During the day they make sure the students stay in line.

The custodians work during the night cleaning and mopping. The custodial staff is supervised by Mr. John Owens. Mr. Owens and his staff are also in charge of the boilers and the snow removal.

Without these two groups Western High School would have a hard time surviving.

Well, this is it, the page on which each year the editor of the yearbook gets to jot down some philosophical statement about the yearbook, school year, or both. This appears on one page in the back of the book just before the index pages. It's a statement which is not usually read by too many, but, nevertheless, it appears each year without fail. Ah, the injustice of it all, well, anyway, to get on to the "good stuff."

This yearbook more than any in the past has had its toughest years. There was not only some doubt about whether there would be a yearbook, but if there was, what would make up its contents. With the mallage defeat, sports, a major part was lost along with many other activities. But in the guidance of Miss Ransom, our adviser, we not only kept the same number of pages, but we increased the number. I would also like to say a few words about the staff. This year we had more students in yearbook than ever before, and they did a great job. Sally Rachtelmeier deserves much credit. She not only took on the job of business manager, but along with that, the responsibility of doing all the add layouts. She also helped with division pages, co-op, and graduation and commencement layouts. I would also like to give special thanks to Leo Grothowski our photography editor. I am not sure if we really got along, but he did a fine job getting us the pictures we needed when we needed them. Credit should also be given to Todd Frank who not only had guts enough to become editor next year, but also undertook the task of designing the sports section. But I and the three above would not have been effective if it had not been for the entire staff, the ones who deserve the credit as much as anyone. They did more ads than ever before and supported the decisions of all involved. With many of the same students returning next year, I think next year's yearbook will be in great hands.

I would like to express my deepest thanks to Miss Ransom who gave her time and help. I am sure that as long as Miss Ransom is the adviser, yearbook will always be a great success.
